1. THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS:

Another fantastic week has been had by all again. Year 3 have been investigating POO.....no really! Stone Age poo, to be precise, to ascertain what evidence they could find to learn about the diets of people from the Stone Age. After much dissecting, they discovered that they mainly ate fruit, berries, nuts, seeds and vegetables. An incredibly healthy diet, don't you agree?

Year 4 have been investigating rocks and soils and how permeable they are. In English, they have been reading the wonderful story of Leon and the Place Between enjoying the beautiful illustrations in this superb picture book. Year 5 have been creating some stunning artwork (collage and sewing fabrics) based on the Jurassic Coast. I cannot wait to see the finished show pieces. Meanwhile, Year 6 are working so hard and progressing remarkably well. Having recently completed the brilliant novel, Holes, they are now writing descriptive settings based on Katherine Rundell's book, The Explorer. Well done to all children this week.

2. ATHLETICS

Yesterday, eight fantastic athletes took part in the third and final round of the indoor athletics competition at Testwood School. Throughout the whole season, every pupils that took part represented the school with dedication, passion and plenty of encouragement for each other. They each gave words of encouragement, offered advice and put 100% into each of their 3 events.

Well done to you all!
